Gloucester Music Society was founded in 1929 to promote chamber music concerts of the highest quality. Our aim remains unchanged, and we take pride in engaging some of the finest musicians from around the world, whilst at the same time being noted for our friendly and informal atmosphere. We present innovative and challenging programmes covering a wide range of music, in the beautiful and historic setting of the Chapter House, Gloucester Cathedral. We will be taking part once again in Gloucester Heritage Open Days on Saturday 10 September at 2.00pm at St Mary de Lode Church, when we present a talk on Edward Elgar by Wendy Hill.

We are pleased to offer reductions for those booking series tickets – six concerts for the price of five! The Society is grateful to those members who, in addition to their subscriptions, make donations, especially those qualifying for gift aid.

The Society acknowledges with gratitude support from the Langtree Trust, the Delius Trust, the RVW Trust, the Limoges Trust, the Richard Carne Trust, the Elgar Society and the Whitehouse Press Ltd.

Programmes may be subject to alteration

87th Season 2016 - 2017

We pay tribute to English composers past and present in a season which includes two world premières plus an 80th birthday year celebration with Anthony Payne.

We move to Saturday afternoon concerts in the historic Chapter House at Gloucester Cathedral and include a shared concert with the Piano Trio Society as it celebrates its 21st anniversary.
